Borne on Shoulders of Enthusiastic

It was dark when a great cheer arose as Paulhan appeared out of the blackness of night and descended gracefully in front of the tribunes. The fence was torn down in the rush to reach him and he was borne on the shoulders of some of the most enthusiastic among the spectators. The crowd escorted him to the Marquise De Polignac, president of the committee of the aviation, to receive congratulations and have his health drunk in champage.

Paulhan's eye rested on a face in the crowd below. Instantly he stretched out his arms and turning, broke his way through the throng in the tribune, a moment later throwing himself into the arms of his wife. His mother and other also were there to embers and other also were there to embers and Beverly, Mass., Aug. 25.—President taft indicated in talks with caliers to-day that in his message to congress next December he will strongly urge the early establishment of a postal savings bank system. The president realizes that there is strong opposition to such legislation at this time, and while he does not propose to rush congress on too many matters at once, he will ask that the platform declaration of the republican party in favor of postal banks be fulfilled as speedily as possible.

Influential members of both the senate and house are urging that the matter be left over until the monetary commission has made its report and ensuing financial legislation has been disposed of. It has even been said that the relation between the subjects to be dealt with by the monetary commission and the postal banks is so close that the two should be handled together.

How Deposits Could Be Well Employed President Taft believes that several hundred millions of dollars would be placed at the disposal of the govern-ment through poetal savings banks. It is suggested that this money might be well employed in taking up the $600. 606,809 or $700,900,000 of government two per cent. bonds which are out-standing and which have given much concern to the treasury department of-ficials. LIEUT, SUTTON'S BODY NOT TO BE EXHUMED AT PRESENT. War Department Postpones Action Upon Request of Mrs. Sutton. Washington, Aug. 25.—The officials of the war department have decided after all to postpone action upon the request of Mrs. Sutton to exhume the body of Lieutenant Sutton, her son, now buried in Arlington National cemetery. The department officials received a simple request from Mrs. Sutton asking that this permission be given without stating reasons for her request, but in the absence of the secretary of war the question of granting the request is withheld for the present.

Although there seems to be no reasonable doubt that ultimately the mother's wishes will be complied with, the officials are of the opinion that the secretary of war, the secretary of the navy and possibly the president should be communicated with before final action is taken. FAKE REPORT OF SHOOTING

OF ALFRED G. VANDERBILT At the Grand Union Hotel-New York City Startled Shortly After Midnight

New York, August 28.—New York was startled shortly after midnight to-day by a report which originated from all. The president believes that the postal banks would appeal only to those timid persons who are afraid to trust the ordinary banks and who would rather get the two per cent. or less interest which the government would give them than to place the money in the regular savings banks, where it would draw from three to four per cent, interest each year. unknown source and was com some unknown source and was com-municated to the corner's office that Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt had been shot at the Grand Union hotel at For-ty-Second street and Park avenue.

Andrews are the leaders of the treasure-seekers, and with them are several others who and with them are several others who have at previous times searched for the treasure so that they will not be without experience in their hunt. A large quantity of apparatus to be used in the search has also arrived.

Mysterious Shaft Discovered. About a quarter of a century ago a mysterious shaft and lettering were discovered on little Oak Island, and the theory was started that many thousands of dollars in gold stolen by Capt. Kidd was buried there. Several companies at different times were financed to discovere the treasure but all met to dig up the treusure, but all met with disappointment, being forced to give up their search after reaching a certain depth because of the rush of water from below, presumably through a subterranean source from the sea.

How the Searchers will Operate. In discussing the treasure-seekers ethod of operation, Mr. Bowoln said method of operation, Mr. Bowoin said:

GRAND CHIEF RANGER MISSOURI RATE CASE DECISION: APPEAL TO BE TA. ... N OF FORESTERS OF AMERICA. By U. S. Commerce Commission to John S. Cosgrove of Hartford Elected

U. S. Supreme Court.

Washington, August 25.—It is regarded as certain that the interstate Commerce Commission will take an appeal to the United States of America at the session of the European court from the decision of the United States circuit court at Chicago in the Missouri rate case.

No opportunity has been afforded the commission since the decision was treasurer, and John W. Slattery of Wooster, Mass., recording secretary:

supreme court from the decision of the United States dircuit court at Chi-cago in the Missouri rate case.

No opportunity has been afforded the commission since the decision was handed down to confer about the case and the attorneys who had charge of the preparation of the case have not yea received the complete opinion of the court. Until that has been exam-imad carefully, no determination as to ined carefully, no determination as to the course of procedure will be outlined.

Judging from the press reports of the opinion, which was written by Judge Grossrup, the court, in the judgment of the commission's lawyers, failed to apprehend fully the principles of law on which was based the commission's order in the case. It is the unanimous opinion of the attorneys that the Supreme court will reverse the decision of the circuit court. neys that the Supreme court will reverse the decision of the circuit court. It is pointed out that it manifestly would be impossible for the commission, in the finding of a reasonable rate between two given points, widely separated, to take into consideration every one of the thousands of rates that might be affected at intermediate points. This phase of such a situation necessarily, it is asserted, would have to be handled by the carriers themselves, so that the rates could conform to the principles laid down in the commission's order.

It is a noteworthy fact that in the Missouri rate case the commission it-Missouri rate case the commission it-self was not unanimous in its opinion. White no dissenting opinion was rendered it is known that Chairman Knapp and Commissioner Prouty did not agree with the opinion on which the commission's order was based.
